Riddles and Puzzles

Integrating riddles related to the material encourages learners to think laterally. For instance, after a reading passage, a riddle like "I speak without a mouth and hear without ears. What am I?" can be linked to themes in the text.

Scenario-Based Questions

Presenting hypothetical situations based on the reading material invites learners to apply knowledge creatively. An example might be:

- If you were the main character, how would you solve the problem differently?
- Imagine you could change one event in the story; what would it be and why?
